SERVANTS WANTED QUESTIONING LINDBERGH KIDNAPING LOCATED

BRAND STORY OF MAN CLAIMING HE DROVE KIDNAP CAR FALSE

IDAHO AUTHORITIES GRILL MAN AND TRACE HIS MOVEMENTS FOR LAST SEVERAL WEEKS

Bryn Mawr, Pa., March 18.—(U.P.)—The German servants who worked in the home of Leander Lightfoot at Franklin Park, N. J., and sought for questioning in the Lindbergh kidnaping case were detained by Lower Merion township police today.

The couple, Sadie and Paul Engstenberg, were taken into custody by Captain Ignatius I. Mullen at the request of New Jersey state police, he said.

After the couple had been located working in a Bryn Mawr home by local police, the New Jersey state police were notified and came to Bryn Mawr to take charge of them. They left immediately for Hopewell, N. J. Police said the Engstenbergs went to work in the Bryn Mawr home March 2, three days after Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., was kidnaped from his nursery. They refused to reveal the name of the family for whom they worked.

Neither Engstenberg nor his wife was given an opportunity to make any statement to local authorities before they were whisked away in New Jersey state troopers' automobiles.

Pocatello, Idaho, March 18.—(U.P.)—Officers questioning Ignace Blaistein, 30, who said last night that he participated in the kidnaping of Charles Lindbergh, Jr., were inclined to discount the man's story today.

Blaistein was carefully interrogated today. He alternately denied and reaffirmed his original story.

The man's movements during the past two weeks were being traced by Pocatello officers. They told the United Press they were almost convinced the man's tale was a hoax. Confirmation of this belief awaited word from certain hotels at Cheyenne, Wyo., and Denver, Colo., where it was believed the man was registered at about the time the Lindbergh kidnaping took place.

Carrollton, Mo., March 18.—(U.P.)—Kansas City accomplices of Bernard Ware, 17-year-old youth who confessed he attempted to kidnap a wealthy banker and hold him for ransom, were sought today.

Ware admitted he had plotted to kidnap H. H. Wilcoxson and planned to extort "about $5,000" from the financier. His admission that a man from Kansas City helped him plan the alleged crime led police to believe he might have been associated with an abduction ring.

Wilcoxson thwarted Ware's attempt to kidnap him and brought about his arrest.

More Snow in Prospect for Area Tonight, Sat.

St. Paul, March 18.—(U.P.)—Heavy cloud banks over the northwest precipitated snow from Charles City, Ia., to the Canadian provinces today with no indications within the next 24 hours for cessation.

The United States weather bureau's forecast included a prediction for more snow tonight and tomorrow and no change in temperature.

Temperatures, however, were mild and no change was seen.

Kidnaping Lindbergh Baby Revives Imaginations Giving Rise to Highly Colorful Dreams

Cambridge, Mass., Mar. 18.—(U.P.)—The Lindbergh baby kidnaping case may throw light on the mysteries of mental telepathy through an elaborate dream study undertaken by the Harvard psychological clinic.

From 44 states and Canada, within the past four days, have come reports on 500 dreams inspired by the sensational abduction, and Dr. Henry A. Murray, head of the clinic, told the United Press today he believed analysis of these contributions may reveal valuable new data concerning unconscious mental processes.

Though many of the dream reports stated more or less definitely the supposed "whereabouts" of the stolen baby, Dr. Murray emphasized that the clinic did not hope to locate him through its researches.

Dr. Murray explained that the clinic had chosen the Lindbergh case in order to obtain reports of a large number of dreams on the same subject. By this means, he said, dreaming could be studied as a phenomenon of social psychology.

"Dreams are psychic events," he said, "but since they are not consciously willed or consciously constructed, they are usually classified in modern psychology among the manifestations of unconscious mental processes. Accordingly the reports which the clinic is collecting may be taken as the unconscious responses of a large number of people to one given situation—namely, the newspaper accounts of the kidnaping."

"Aside from the bearing which this research has upon purely psychological matters, the data which is being collected may incidentally shed light upon the much-disputed problem of mental telepathy—that is, whether there are specially sensitive persons who have presentiments, visions or dreams of events actually occurring at a distance."

Pointing out that dream reports had come from every state in the union except Delaware, Mississippi, Texas, and North Dakota, Dr. Murray asked: "Is there no unconscious mental activity in these states?"

The contributors thus far have varied in age from 8 to 81 years. The dreams of children being among the most interesting.

Linguist University Professor Enters 19th Day of Starvation in Protest Against Unemployment

Washington, Mar. 19.—(U.P.)—Refusing a temporary job, Dr. Frederick F. Wolter, 57, holder of three university degrees, today entered the 19th day of his starvation protest against unemployment.

Wolter, a trained librarian and master of eight languages, says he is determined to starve himself to death unless he is offered a permanent "suitable" position.

The temporary job offered Wolter was cataloguing some books in a college library here at $15 a week. Wolter declared the salary was too low, and besides "it would not accomplish anything."

He denied, however, that his self-imposed starvation should be considered a suicide. He said:

"My action must not be regarded as an attempt at suicide but as the logical course of action required by circumstance. I am ready to break my fast as soon as a suitable position is assured me or means of a decent, though frugal, livelihood are placed at my disposal."

"If I am destined to life of starvation, I prefer to starve rapidly. To take up this course of action I not only consider it my personal right, but my prescribed duty as an American citizen, in order to arouse the public conscience by directing attention to social abuses and thus giving an impetus to reforms."

GANG HOLDS BANK HEAD DAUGHTER PRISONERS ALL NIGHT, GET $7,000

Wooden Money in Circulation

Faribault, Minn., March 18.—(U.P.)—Yes, sir, there really is wooden money in circulation.

Lynn Peavy, president of the Security National Bank here, was displaying actual wood money today which he received from his daughter who lives near Tenino, Wash.

When the banks in the western town were closed, trustees of the depositors' money issued the wooden money for circulation pending liquidation.

The money is printed on very thin sheets of wood, somewhat near the size of United States dollar bills. The signatures of three trustees are written in ink on the bottom.

"ROMEO" SLAYER TO GALLOWS TONIGHT

Charleston, W. Va., March 18.—(U.P.)—Harry F. Powers, "Bluebeard" killer accused of hanging or strangling five persons, is scheduled to die on the gallows tonight for the murder of Mrs. Dorothy Pressler Lemke of Northboro, Mass., lured by mail order promises of marriage.

Powers' last hope for a reprieve faded last night when Governor William G. Conley overruled a telephone plea by J. Ed Law, Clarksburg attorney. Law defended the beady-eyed Powers.

Urges Investment Board To Buy Bureau Securities

St. Paul, March 18.—(U.P.)—The Rural Credit bureau advisory board today decided to urge the State investment board to reverse its decision on a refusal to finance the bureau's securities. The board will meet with the investment commission next Tuesday to advocate the purchase of $2,000,000 worth of rural credits bonds.

Delavan, Wis., March 18.—(U.P.)—Four men robbed the Citizens State Bank of $7,000 today, after holding Walter Topping, the president, his wife, and their daughter, Polly, 6, prisoners in their home all night.

Topping and Polly were alone when the bandits forced their way into the home last night, but Mrs. Topping returned a few minutes later and also was made a prisoner. The Toppings were handcuffed and promised they would come to no harm "if you don't make any mistakes." The robbers sat around smoking and talking until this morning, when three of them took Topping to the bank.

Within the next half hour, ten employees arrived, were made prisoners, and herded with Topping into a cloakroom. Assured that the entire personnel was present, the robbers took the money, drove after the fourth bandit at the Topping home, and escaped.

Prospect, O., March 18.—(U.P.)—Three men today robbed the Prospect Citizens Bank of about $20,000 and fled north in a motor car which was clipped by bullets fired by two citizens.

R. W. Herberster, president of the bank, the cashier and two bank examiners were forced to submit to the robbery. Marshal Ed Fritsch and H. B. Osborn, a merchant, heading a group of excited citizens exchanged shots with the fugitives. Osborn believed he wounded one of the men.

The Prospect bank was robbed of $861 two months ago.

DRAFT PLAN UNLOAD U. S. WHEAT, COTTON SUPPLIES ABROAD

GOVERNMENT AGENTS CONDUCTING SURVEY TO ASCERTAIN POTENTIAL MARKET

Washington, March 18.—(U.P.)—Sec. of Agriculture Hyde announced at the White House today that the government is planning an intensive campaign to unload the country's surplus cotton and wheat supplies abroad.

Hyde made the announcement after a meeting of the cabinet. He said that probably some of the $200,000,000 accruing to agriculture under provisions of the reconstruction finance corporation would be used in the campaign.

Hyde emphasized that it would practically be impossible for the government to lend any of this $200,000,000 to the farmers direct, as some have desired. His idea was that it could be used, however, to arrange either long or short term credits abroad for the disposal of surplus crops in foreign markets.

"It would not be humanly possible for us to make $200,000,000 worth of loans to agriculture at this time," Hyde said. "Since we could not lend this amount if we had it, a better plan might be to employ the money in trying down our surpluses rather than trying to continue to stimulate production."

Hyde said that government agents abroad were now conducting a survey to ascertain where the surplus crops could be most readily and profitably absorbed.

The $200,000,000 he referred to is not yet available, but is expected to be as soon as the details of the financing are arranged.

CHARGE JAP TROOPS REMOVED FROM AREA QUIETLY REPLACED AS FIRE RAZES HOME

CHINESE PRESS MAINTAINS DETACHMENT WITHDRAWN IN FAVOR OF ONE TWICE AS STRONG

Shanghai, March 18.—(U.P.)—The Chinese-owned China press charged today that the Japanese 9th division, withdrawn from the Shanghai area amid public announcements, had been quietly replaced by the 40th division, twice as strong.

The press charged that the 40th division of some 20,000 men had taken over the 9th division positions as part of a Japanese concentration of men and material which would make possible a large scale offensive. The paper voiced the private opinion of prominent Chinese by declaring it was skeptical of the sincerity of Japanese peace overtures.

Meanwhile peace negotiations remained at a standstill, pending instructions from Tokyo on the three point program agreed to by Chinese and Japanese representatives here.

Reports that 100,000 Chinese troops were marching on Mukden were denied by Chinese sources today. British, Japanese, and American consulates and foreign military intelligence services had no knowledge of the movement.

Foreign observers admitted the possibility of small leaderless groups combining to harass the Japanese by hit, loot, and run tactics.

Peiping, March 18.—(U.P.)—The Japanese authorities in north Manchuria have imposed a censorship on virtually all messages from that section, according to information here. All wire traffic to and from points north of Mukden is now handled via Japan.

20000 MAJORITY FOR ROOSEVELT IN N. D.

Bismarck, N. D., March 18.—(U.P.)—Out of the record North Dakota presidential preference vote of 200,000, Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt will win a majority close to 20,000, Roosevelt state headquarters predicted today.

Observers estimated that at least 85,000 votes had been cast on the Democratic ballots and that the Republican vote was only slightly more. The remaining 25,000 voters balloted on a constitutional amendment to move the capital from Bismarck to Jamestown—a heated local state issue.

The possibility still remained that George Murray, brother of Roosevelt's Oklahoma rival, might win a place on the state's delegation to the Chicago convention.

MOTHER OF FOUR CHILDREN VICTIMS BADLY BURNED IN RESCUE ATTEMPT

Paulsboro, N. J., March 18.—(U.P.)—Four children were burned to death today in a fire which destroyed their two-story home on Crown Point road, 15 miles from Camden. The fire is believed to have started from an overheated stove.

The victims were Theresa Bell, 15; Mary, 8, and Ruth, 4, all sisters, and William, a brother, eight months old. Mrs. Lillian Bell, 38, the mother, was badly burned trying to rescue them. The father, a mechanic, was at work.

Mrs. Bell aroused the sleeping children and told them to follow her. She groped her way to the first floor, then found they were not behind her. She screamed and tried to return, but neighbors prevented that. Bodies of the four children were found in the ruins.

New York, March 18.—(U.P.)—The united action group, organized to obtain employment for 1,000,000 men throughout the country, announced today that its drive had passed the quarter million mark.

The total number of men put to work since the drive began on February 15, was 256,914, the statement showed.

Minnesota, reporting 6,154 new wage earners for yesterday, regained the lead over New York, with 29,514 men back on jobs. New York got jobs for 24,872, Pennsylvania 18,338 and Wisconsin 16,959.

'RUMP' DEMO GROUP FACES LEGAL HITCH TO FILE ELECTORS

SECRETARY OF STATE MIKE HOLM SAYS HE CAN'T ACCEPT FILINGS SECOND SET

St. Paul, Minn., March 18.—(U.P.)—The "rump" Democratic state convention will encounter legal difficulties when it attempts to file its list of presidential electors, Mike Holm, secretary of state, said today.

Holm already has accepted the filings of a set of electors, the ones selected by the regular March 9 convention.

"I certainly can't accept the filings of a second set of electors under the same designation," Holm said, "unless advised by the attorney general to do so."

"When and if the attempt is made to file a second set of Democratic electors, I shall at once ask the attorney general for an opinion. It is a situation that has never before presented itself, at least so far as I know."

The names of 11 electors nominated by the regular Democratic convention were filed Thursday with Secretary of State Holm.

The regular convention endorsed Franklin D. Roosevelt, governor of New York, while the "rump" convention nominated an unopposed delegation to the national convention with leanings for Alfred E. Smith.

GRADUATED CUTS FEDERAL SALARIES ASKED IN MEASURE

SENATOR CONNALLY, DEMOCRAT, INTRODUCES BILL BEFORE SENATE

Washington, March 18.—(U.P.)—Senator Connally, Dem., Tex., introduced in the senate today a bill for graduated reduction of federal salaries from $2,000 up.

Connally would reduce $2,000 to $5,000 salaries by five per cent; $5,000 to $10,000 by 10 per cent and larger salaries by 15 per cent.

"The staggering deficit of $3,000,000,000," he said, incurred during the past two years of the Hoover administration must be met not alone by new taxes but by rigid and radical reduction of expenses."

Washington, March 18.—(U.P.)—Opponents to sales tax today ripped the new tax bill to pieces, despite everything that House leaders could do to hold their forces in line.

The sales tax opposition first won a victory in its effort to increase normal income taxes. Then the rank and file of the House joined them in adopting the drastic war time surtaxes on large incomes.

Blow to Coalition
Both actions were sternly resisted by the Republican and Democratic coalition leaders who implored the House "to have sense."

The wartime surtax rates were adopted by a vote of 153 to 87. The leadership was so dispirited a teller count was not even requested.

The action was a blow to the coalition leadership on the tax bill. It took the bill out of their hands, and provided the first step in building up a substitute. At the same time it cannot be considered as a direct indication of how the House will go on the 21-4 per cent, sales provision. It merely meant the leaders had been outmaneuvered and the opposition considerably heartened.

Crisp resisted the move all along the line. He first asked for a division. That showed 92 to 68 against him. Later he sought a teller vote which disclosed 121 to 84 against him.

Demos Would A Favor
Most of the votes for the amendment came from the Democratic side. Only 21 were counted with Crisp on that side on the division vote. That left 47 opposing him within the ranks of his own party.

The test came in the first hour of direct consideration of the bill. The first six pages were passed over rapidly with only a few debating skirmishes. The increases fixed by the committee on incomes of less than $8,000 were adopted without objection. These boosted the present law of 1-1/2 per cent on the first $4,000 to 2 per cent, and the existing rates of 3 per cent on the next $4,000 to 4 per cent.

House Follows Leaders
Later, however, the House followed its leaders for the first time today by raising the corporation tax from 12 per cent to 13 per cent. An amendment by Rep. Harlan, Democrat, Ohio, to make the amount 15 per cent was defeated without a division.

The maximum surtax rate on large incomes was boosted from 40 per cent, as proposed by the leaders, to 65 per cent, the heavy rate imposed during the war. The present law provides a 20 per cent maximum.

Leaders of both parties completely lost control. They could do nothing in the face of enthusiastic opposition to the sales tax among the Democratic and Republican rank and file. The house wildly cheered the vote increasing the surtaxes on the wealthy.

The vote followed a moving appeal from Rep. Connery, of Massachusetts, regarded as a "left wing" Democrat, who warned the house of the evils of concentrated wealth in a few hands.

Warns of Bounds
Both Rep. Treadway, Rep., Mass., ranking minority member of the ways and means committee, and Acting Chairman Crisp warned the house to stay within bounds. He said such excessive surtaxes could not be collected.

The amendment carrying the heavy duties on the wealthy was proposed by Rep. Swing, Rep., Calif. The committee offered a graduated scale from one per cent on $10,000 to a 40 per cent maximum of incomes of more than $100,000. The Swing amendment carried this graduated scale through to a 65 per cent maximum on $500,000 and over. It was estimated his plan would bring in $130,000,000 more in revenue.

The house earlier increased the normal rate on incomes above $8,000 from six to seven per cent. The two amendments together furnished $150,000,000 of revenue not anticipated in the billion dollar bill.

Speaker John Garner of the house issued a statement late today urging that the federal budget be balanced and saying it was a debatable question how it should be done.

The statement was issued after overthrow of house leadership on the floor on the tax bill and was indicative of the desire of leaders to make peace with the rank and file on any bill that would balance the budget.

Rev. A. G. Patterson gained some knowledge of these poles in a trip taken some years ago through the northwest and Alaska. He will tell about this pole at the services.

This totem pole is on exhibition through the kindness of Edward Brooks, John E. Jackson, assisted by other men, will place it in position.

PHILL-UP WITH PHILLIPS • THE GASOLINE OF CONTROLLED VOLATILITY

"HIGHEST TEST" at the price of ordinary gasoline

Phillips 66 volatility is 69.6 per cent higher than the average of 28 competitive gasolines. Proved by unbiased laboratory tests based on distillation at 212 degrees.

Improvement in performance that is nothing short of sensational, is reported by motorist after motorist, when the tank is filled with Phillips 66 . . . the greater gasoline.

If the finer results were noted only in one make of car, or in two or three, you might reasonably doubt whether your motor would deliver similar improvement. But owners of four-cylinder Fords, and owners of Cadillacs with four times as many cylinders; all are enthusiastic about the added power, the faster get-away, the snappier pick-up, and longer mileage given by Phillips 66 gasoline.

They are unanimous, too, in praising its split-second starting speed on days of freezing cold. That's why it pays to get high test. And it pays doubly, if you stop at the Orange and Black 66 shield . . . because that's where you get higher test gasoline without higher price.

GOOD ROADS—GOOD EDUCATION—

Writing in "Roads and Streets," M. S. Winder points out the intimate relationship that exists between rural roads and rural educational facilities.

During 1930, 50,000 school buses transported 2,000,000 children to and from 17,000 schools. From year to year the number of one-room country schools has been gradually decreasing, and the number of consolidated schools increasing. In 1917-18, there were 195,397 one-room schools and 5,349 consolidated schools. By 1927-28, the number of one-room schools had dropped to 153,306, while consolidated schools jumped to 17,004.

During the same period there has been a large increase in the number of pupils transported to schools at public expense. In 15 states, from 1920 to 1928, this increase was 191 per cent.

It is obvious that the children of families living on unimproved roads which become impassable or semi-impassable during several months of the year, are at a tremendous disadvantage when it comes to their education. The decline in the small schools and the increase in the large consolidated schools serving a much wider area, makes it necessary for each child, on the average, to travel farther. In one town which Mr. Winder cites, only 12 of 300 pupils enrolled in a school are within walking distance, while the others dwell in a district 240 square miles in area and are brought to classes in five large buses whose daily mileage is 125 miles each.

We usually think of improved rural roads from the standpoint of their effect on the social and economic life of farmers and small town residents. But the influence they have in making a high standard of education available to more children, is of extreme importance, and is alone all the justification that the good roads movement could desire.

THE MINING PROBLEM GROWS UP—

We used to think of mining problems as being exclusively within the province of the metal producing states, which are principally in the west.

That attitude has been changed, largely because of the drop in value of silver. This naturally forces retrenchment on the mines—and it likewise affects us all by making times harder. The buying power of whole nations has been cut to a fraction of its former level, and international trade is falling toward the point of non-existence.

Successful efforts to rehabilitate silver will naturally benefit the mines—but the greatest benefit of all will go to the general public, in increased industrial activity and employment.

THE REAL PROBLEM—

An atomerg, in case you don't know, is the smallest possible particle of energy—the ultimate building block of which everything in the universe, from a great mountain to a flickering candle flame, is made.

It is described in the new theory of matter put forward recently by Dr. E. K. Plyler, of the University of North Carolina, and it is so incredibly small that if you wanted to write down its size you would have to put down a decimal point, follow it with 47 ciphers and then add the figure 7.

All of this, while it is simply incomprehensible to those of us who don't happen to be physicists or mathematicians, represents an important new scientific advance and demonstrates anew what a marvellously active and intelligent thing the human brain can be; but it also serves to show the curiously uneven way in which our knowledge advances.

We can trace the kinship between matter and energy down to a point unbelievably remote, and can dissect the structure of all created things with a precision that almost transcends thought; and yet on such practical matters as finding a way in which all human beings can always have enough to eat and enough to wear and a warm place to sleep we sometimes seem as incompetent as a group of school children.

Again, we can give a fairly accurate account of how the universe is put together—which, everything considered, is quite an achievement—but we know no more why, or when, or what it is all about, than did the buffalo-hunting Indians of our western plains two centuries ago.

We make magnificent triumphs in our laboratories and send thought questioning restlessly beyond the most remote frontiers; but we have not yet solved the simple problem of getting along with one another in peace and harmony, and we have to spend a crushing proportion of our wealth on weapons with which to kill one another when our quarrels get too acrid.

If, some day, we can learn to apply the same intelligence that now goes to scientific research and speculation to the homelier problems of everyday life, we might be able to make this an exceedingly pleasant and livable world.

TRANSATLANTIC AIR MAIL—

Revelation before a Congressional committee that the backers of those proposed trans-oceanic dirigible lines are ready to spend $15,000,000 on giant airships if the United States will grant contract mail privileges indicates that the day of regular commercial aeronautical service beyond the seas is not far away.

By this time the big dirigibles have pretty clearly proved their reliability. And evidently a number of unemotional financiers have concluded that transoceanic dirigible service could be made dependable and safe enough to warrant investment of a huge sum of money.

That puts it up to Congress. The present may be a poor time to come seeking a mail subsidy for a new venture of this kind; but it is clear that the establishment of such air lines is not very far away. If the plan fails this year, it will probably go through next year or the year after.

The dime-a-dance girl

BY JOAN CLAUION

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Beautiful ELLEN ROSSITER, employed at Barclay's Department Store, works nights as a dance hall hostess. She lives with her mother, MOLLY ROSSITER, her elder sister, MYRA, and her brother, MIKE.

STEVEN BARCLAY, 37 and owner of Barclay's, is in love with Ellen. Twice she refuses to marry him. Ellen loves LARRY HARRINGTON, an artist she has met at Dreamland. Newspapers announce Larry's engagement to ELIZABETH BOWEN, a debutante. Ellen hopes the announcement is untrue but when Elizabeth returns from Europe, Larry curiously tells Ellen he cannot see her for some time.

Heart-broken, Ellen tries to forget. Gradually she comes to think less of Larry and more of Barclay. Her brother is injured in a traffic accident and Barclay provides money for the boy's care. One night he tells Ellen he has called for DR. STENGEL, a Viennese physician, to perform an operation on Mike's legs. Ellen tells Barclay she wants to marry him. He loves her, thinks she will come to love him. He gives BERT ARMSTRONG, Myra's fiancé, a job so that Myra and Bert can be married.

Barclay insists Ellen must give up her work at the store and at Dreamland. When she leaves the dance hall where she met Larry she is strangely regretful.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXIX

ELLEN awakened the following morning to the pungent, delicious smell of coffee and broiling bacon. She rolled over with startled haste to look at the clock. Almost eight!

Suddenly she remembered that never again would she be jumping from bed to gulp a hurried breakfast and rush away to work. Oh, what bliss! She sank back in delightful ease, stretched and yawned. As her eyes were closing she saw Myra, fast asleep in the next bed, the rumpled sheet thrust away from her body revealing the rise and fall of her dull gold braids as she breathed. Mother must have returned from the hospital.

Ellen was out of bed at once and without stopping for slippers she ran into the kitchen. An alert, competent looking woman stood at the stove arranging curls of bacon on the broiler. She turned at Ellen's impetuous entrance.

"The janitor let me in," the woman explained, apparently oblivious of Ellen's surprise. "You and your sister were so sound asleep it seemed a shame to disturb you."

"Oh," said Ellen blankly. "I'm Mrs. Stanley, Mr. Barclay's town housekeeper," continued the unruffled voice. "He thought you'd be needing me. I just stopped on my way at the corner store and bought the things for breakfast."

"What are you going to do today?" Ellen asked after a pause. "Well, after we leave the hospital I'm going to spend the afternoon hunting an apartment," Myra answered. She blushed and added, "Bert is going to see Mr. Barclay this morning."

"Have you two set the wedding date yet?" Ellen demanded. "Do you think it would be fun

"I'm not sure—"

"You run right back to bed," Mrs. Stanley said placidly. "I'll bring your breakfast in to you."

"We're not used to breakfasting in bed," Ellen laughed self-consciously. She did not know quite how to meet the situation.

"You'll get used to it," Mrs. Stanley promised confidently. "You'd better get back into bed now. There's someone looking at you from across the way."

She pointed to the window. Ellen fled.

She woke Myra and broke the news.

"I think it's swell," Myra declared, yawning. "Your Steven's grand. Bert wouldn't have thought of such a thing in a million years. I'm not certain, but I think it's swell."

"It looks as though we'd have to," Ellen admitted, a small frown between her eyes. "Mrs. Stanley certainly has an air of 'Here's your breakfast—now you eat it.'"

"Then what's all the shooting for?" "I know Steven didn't tell her to march in on us like this—that was her idea," Ellen went on. "Just the same I'm not sure I like having our lives snatched out of our hands this way."

"Anyone who brings me breakfast in bed can certainly snatch my life," observed Myra. "I won't object."

SHE laughed and Ellen laughed too. After all she found it pleasant to lie in bed and breakfast from a tray at the very hour she had so often been rushing for a subway train. Pleasant to have Mrs. Stanley moving about quietly putting the apartment to rights and asking no questions about anything.

"If this is demoralization," Myra remarked as she dipped into a slice of pale green melon, "I'll never get enough of it."

"It is nice," said Ellen contentedly. "Nice? It's perfect!"

"What are you going to do today?" Ellen asked after a pause. "Well, after we leave the hospital I'm going to spend the afternoon hunting an apartment," Myra answered. She blushed and added, "Bert is going to see Mr. Barclay this morning."

"Have you two set the wedding date yet?" Ellen demanded. "Do you think it would be fun if we both were married together?"

"I think it would be grand."

There was perfect peace between the two girls. It was a little later when they had begun to dress that Myra unconsciously delivered to Ellen a stab of pain.

"When are you going to give up your job at the library?" Ellen demanded, as she twisted to see if the skirt of her jersey suit hung properly.

"I'm not giving it up at all," Myra answered. "They're letting me have two weeks' vacation and that's all I'll take."

She went on self-consciously, "You see Bert and I will be just starting out—not at all like you and Steven. Bert won't be drawing a grand salary at Barclay's for some years to come. It's the dream of our lives to have our own home. You know that house we've been looking at Sundays for centuries? Well, it's still for sale."

Ellen lost interest in the hang of her skirt. It was on the tip of her tongue to suggest that Steven would help with the house. She knew he would be glad to. Something in Myra's face stopped the words.

PERHAPS Myra read her thoughts, for she said uncomfortably:

"Ellen, honey, there's something I think you and I should settle right now."

"What is it?" "You'll be living a life quite different from Bert's and mine," Myra went on. "You'll have lots of things we won't have for years and may never have. You may be tempted to give us things we can't afford. And we won't want to take them."

"You just said," protested Ellen with an uncertain laugh, "that you loved having breakfast in bed—loved being lazy."

"So I do, goose. But this is different. Mrs. Stanley is here because of you—not because of me. Mother and Mike, of course, are different. But Bert and I are young and strong. We don't want things made easy for us!"

IT was then that Ellen felt the wrench of pain. Until then it had not occurred to her that Myra would not have the same things she would have and share the same pleasures. Myra certainly was entitled to her pride. In that instant Ellen seemed to feel their lives slipping apart.

"But surely," she persisted, her lips quivering suspiciously, "when Steven and I come back from Europe you won't be too proud to stay with me sometimes."

"Of course not, silly!" Even with her sister's arm around her Ellen continued to feel a sense of loneliness; a queer premonition that something was about to tear her away from old familiar things. She did not want that to happen.

At the hospital the two girls found Mike as active a convalescent as his heavy plaster casts would permit. Ellen left Myra there and returned alone to the apartment. The conversation of the morning still lingered in her mind. She blamed herself bitterly. Surely she was not marrying Steven for money or the things she thought he would do for her family. Surely she was not so unfair as to love him less because she had discovered it would be impossible for her to give her sister the luxuries she herself was to have. Ellen climbed the stairs feeling discouraged.

STEVEN was waiting for her in the apartment. When she saw him everything seemed all right again. She liked him so much that in time she was sure she would come to love him. When he kissed her there was nothing lacking in his kiss because she had determined to find nothing lacking.

She gave him an amusing account of the morning and he confessed that for 30 years Mrs. Stanley had ordered him around exactly as she had ordered Ellen. "That was all right," Ellen said. "But what is it you wanted to tell me?"

Barclay laughed, dug into his pocket and produced a passport which he flipped toward her. It was made out for Mr. and Mrs. Steven Barclay.

"We're to have the bridal suite," he explained, deeply pleased. "That's why I was so long reaching here. It took quite a while to persuade Lord Somebody or Other he didn't want it."

"Oh, what fun!" breathed Ellen, conjuring up a vision of herself stretched in a steamer chair, lazily watching the sparkle of blue waves and the leaping, curving bodies of dolphins sporting in the sunshine.

"How would you like it if Bert and Myra were married with us?" "Fine idea," he responded absently.

There was something more he wanted to say and he did not know how to say it. After a moment he cleared his throat and began:

"Ellen, did you plan a big wedding? I mean did you think of having it here with all the neighbors in?"

Ellen looked surprised. "Getting nervous?" she demanded mischievously. Then seeing that he was not diverted she continued soberly, "I really hadn't thought about it. There's no one I want to have with me except mother and of course Myra and Bert. We'll have any kind of wedding you want, Steven."

"I want a very quiet ceremony," Steven said abruptly. "More than that, my dear, I must explain to you my reasons."

MAKE THE PUNISHMENT FIT THE CRIME

FISHING SCHOONER BURNS AT SEA; CREW RESCUED SAFELY

SCHOONER RUTH MILDRED DESTROYED; CAPTAIN AND CREW BROUGHT ASHORE

Norfolk, Va., March 17.—(U.P.)—The master and crew of the fishing schooner Ruth Mildred were brought safely ashore today from their craft which caught fire and burned to the water's edge last night.

Other vessels from the fishing fleet operating out of Hampton, Va., went to the Ruth Mildred's assistance immediately after the fire broke out. Half an hour after the fire began, the master of the Ruth Mildred and her crew of five were taken aboard the schooner Ariel which came into port this morning.

The Ruth Mildred caught fire about 25 miles east by south of Chesapeake Bay, off the entrance to Chesapeake Bay. The passing tanker Sun-off reported the fire to the coast guard, which dispatched three cutters to the vicinity. One of these cutters reached the location at dawn and reported no wreckage in sight. Meantime the Ruth Mildred's crew was being taken safely ashore by the Ariel.

OUR HERO!

Los Angeles—Police Officer S. S. Johnson deserves a medal, but all he gets is a new uniform. A group of playful schoolboys recently caught a skunk and released it among pedestrians on a busy street. Bystanders scattered and Johnson appeared on the scene. First he captured the skunk with his hands—foolish fellow—and then he shot it.

BOOTLEGS FOR TAXES

Detroit—In offering a cause for entering the bootlegging racket, Joseph Ryehlicki told Federal Judge Charles C. Simons the following: "In times like these, everybody should try to pay his taxes, your honor. I've been in Detroit 17 years and I didn't want to fall down in tax payments." His story sounded pretty good, for he drew a suspended sentence of six months.

Canada is larger than the Continental States by about 500,000 miles.

Thoughts for Lent

"Simon, Lovest Thou Me?" (Read John 21:15-22.)

When love has become the sole and single force that governs action, we are brought inevitably to that soul-searching experience to which Simon Peter came in his last meeting with Jesus the Risen Christ. The "new commandment" has become the accepted rule. The Radiance has entered into our being as a permanent illumination. Now the question is: What or whom shall hereafter be the focus of our attention? Love can not remain an abstraction. It may concentrate upon some great cause. It may go out in loyalty to a system of thought or to an institution. The question which Christ asked Peter, and which he asks us implies one single answer: "I love Thee, Christ, more than any cause. I love Thee more than any other person. I love Thee so, because Thou art my cause, Thou art my creed, Thou art indeed my God—for Thou art the Way, the Truth, and the Life, and no man cometh unto the Father but by Thee."

Prayer: O Christ, we simply ask Thee now that Thou wilt help us to love Thee, until we shall have come to love Thee wholly and without any lack of feeling, any lapse of mind, or any flaw of conduct, either in sleeping or in waking, either by night or by day, Amen.

LOWELL DADS OFFER UNUSUAL PROGRAM OF ENTERTAINMENT

Dads' night at the Lowell P. T. A. meeting Tuesday night fully measured up to the usual popularity of this event.

Marion Newman appeared in two selections and gave the original interpretations of the composers. The first was "The Fawn," by Cecile Chaminade. This was followed by "Solfeggietto" by Bach and was a left hand solo. Both compositions were rendered in a manner that reflects credit on Brainerd in having such promising youthful talent, and were enthusiastically received.

Miss Milena anasek in her talk explained the various honors and attainments of Campfire Girls. She appeared in a Campfire girl's garb and exhibited several pieces of the girls' handiwork.

Robert T. Campbell's talk was inspiring in several directions, particularly citizenship, and the keeping of Arbor Day with planting of trees or shrubs. Campbell is state chairman of the P. T. A. committee on citizenship. A committee of Lowell parents and teachers is planning for appropriate observance of Arbor Day.

The Boy Scouts of N. E. Brainerd, which is sponsored by the P. T. A., was given another year's backing in the appointment of the usual four committeemen. These are: A. Zimmerman, C. G. Miller, A. W. Gronquist and Chas. Hall. The sum of five dollars for this work was allowed.

C. G. Miller gave a short talk urging hearty support of the Boy Scout movement. The executive committee reported having sent a letter to the city council and one to the board of county commissioners, urging the improvement of 8th avenue from state aid road No. 3 to the new state highway

No. 2, which will relieve two blocks of paved streets adjacent to the Lowell school of much traffic and possible accidents.

A letter of thanks was ordered sent to the firm of Gustafson and Nelson for the large framed picture of George Washington presented to the P. T. A. in February. A delicious lunch was served under the leadership of A. Zimmerman.

Underdogs Win Opener

Minneapolis, March 18.—(UP)—Underdogs of the advance drew in the state high school basketball tournament finals came through as their annual custom and left several highly touted favorites to fight it out today in the consolation rounds.

Winona, Mankato and Thief River Falls defeated teams which were picked to win while Chisholm made hard work in its victory over the little known Princeton team.

The results of yesterday's play were: Thief River Falls 31, Balaton 17. Winona 27, Crosby-Ironton 15. Chisholm 20, Princeton 16. Mankato 17, Northfield 15.

Tonight Winona will play Thief River Falls and Chisholm will play Mankato.

Only Winona got past the hurdle of stage fright and played its best game throughout its contest. The champions of the Big Eight of southeastern Minnesota, although out-sized and out-weighted went through around and between the towering Crosby-Ironton team and increased its margin as the game progressed.

The favored Northfield team missed enough shots to win two games and the more it missed the wilder it got. Mankato guarded closely, however, and excelled at dribbling and general floor play.

Chisholm fed the ball to its star forward Okoren who threw them in from all angles and enabled his team to turn back a scrappy smart Princeton team. Thief River Falls made its victory look amazingly easy through the advantage two tall forwards gave it. With Lloyd Aarstad, six feet five and a half inches of center, and the rangy Kiely each scoring four field goals, Balaton's superior floor play went for naught.

Maier-Nicholas Meet in Year's Second Title Bout in Chicago

Chicago, March 18.—(UP)—The second world's championship boxing match held in Chicago this year will take place tonight at the Chicago stadium where Dave Maier, Milwaukee Dutchman, meets George Nicholas, Buffalo Italian, in a 10-round bout.

The first title bout saw Jackie Fields regain the welterweight title from Lou Brouillard in January.

A crowd of 12,000 is expected to pay about $25,000 to see tonight's battle between the survivors of the National Boxing Association's tournament with 32 entries.

Maier and Nicholas are both south-paws, using the right hand to deliver their deadly punches. Maier, quoted a 7 to 5 betting favorite, has scored seven knockouts in his string of 12 straight victories. In a previous match with Nicholas, Maier scored a technical knockout in the eighth round but was on the losing end up until that time.

DEMPSEY HARRASSED BY ANOTHER LEGAL TANGLE INVOLVING CONTRACT WILLS BOUT

Chicago, March 17.—(UP)—The shadow of old Harry Wills, the one time black menace of the heavyweight division, today once more was athwart the path of Jack Dempsey.

Dempsey has been held responsible for the expenses incurred by the Chicago Coliseum club in 1926 in attempting to promote a Dempsey-Wills bout, according to a decision handed down yesterday by the appellate court.

Attorney Ralph Rosen, representing the Coliseum club, estimated expenses at $100,000.

The decision reversed a judgment in Dempsey's favor in the circuit court last year and remanded to trial again the suit for $500,000 brought against Dempsey by the Coliseum club. The club brought suit on four counts: Alleging loss of profits from the scheduled fight; seeking to recover expenses prior to the signing of the contract; expenses in prosecuting a successful injunction suit in Indiana which restrained Dempsey from meeting Tunney, which order he violated; and expenses between the signing of the contract and the time Dempsey wired he did not plan to go through with the Wills match.

Judge Francis Wilson in his decision sustained the circuit court's decision in favor of Dempsey on three counts but held Dempsey responsible for expenses incurred between the time he signed the contract, March 13, 1926, and the time he wired on July 10, 1926, as follows:

"Too busy training for Tunney to waste time with your insurance representatives. As you have no contract, would suggest that you stop kidding yourself and me also."

HITLER DISCREDITS MOBILIZATION TO USURP AUTHORITY

DECLARES FASCIST TROOPS CALLED OUT FOR PROTECTION AGAINST COMMUNISTS

Berlin, March 18.—(U.P.)—Concentration of some 500,000 "storm troops" of Adolf Hitler's Fascist organization was for protection against Communists and not aimed at a violent assumption of power, Hitler said today in a statement from his Munich headquarters.

Hitler admitted the concentration while Prussian police examined thousands of documents seized in raids on Nazi headquarters throughout Prussia yesterday.

Police claimed they found "significant material concerning civil war preparations by Hitler's brown shirt army."

Hitler's statement said mobilization of "storm detachments" was customary during elections while the brown shirts engaged in electioneering. "Storm squads were concentrated alone to prevent the slaughtering of lone and defenseless brown shirts by members of the Iron Front" (Communist organization), the statement said.

Hitler charged that 40 Nazis had been killed and thousands injured in recent weeks. He claimed the police raids were illegal and that charges of Prussian Minister of the Interior Karl Severing had been proved unfounded.

PENITENT

Cincinnati—How disconcerting the pang of conscience must be! Dr. H. H. She confessed that she had torn the page from the book and felt "as though I stole this dial information."

IMAGINE THIS!

Miami, Fla.—Can you imagine a California editor apologizing to a Florida city? Well, the Long Beach, Calif., Press-Telegram recently informed its readers that Miami had a maximum temperature of 44 and a minimum reading of 16 when everyone here was enjoying July weather. The paper afterward corrected the error by saying it was a mistake of the typesetter, who got Miami temperatures mixed with those of Miles City, Mont.

Evansville, Ind.—A charge of "drunken driving" was filed against Earl Baumgartner after he had driven his car into the house of Jacob Kramer. Hospital doctors came to his aid, however, and explained to police that Baumgartner was drunk, but his intoxication was from ether taken in a dentist's office, and not from alcohol.

Evansville, Ind.—A group of boys playing near the Ohio river found a floating bottle in which a proposal was contained. The note read as follows: "Mrs. Grace James of 1618 Pirle street, Louisville, Ky.—Please find me a husband of whom I'll be fond, to love and keep me as long as I live, and to this person a sweet life I'll give.—Via Ohio River."

JUDGE GETS RILED

Knoxville, Tenn.—Mrs. B. L. LaFollette had her husband arrested for cruelty. When his trial came up she refused to testify. "The next time let her husband beat her to death," the judge said, disgustedly. "Don't you ever come back to my court again and seek protection," he told her.

Indemnity + Prevention = Insurance

When "insurance" means
INSURANCE

INSURANCE—as written by stock companies—brings to you not only dependable indemnity but the pledge of many services which prevent those losses for which money cannot pay.

Leadership in fire prevention—better building standards—the testing of materials and devices—the improvement of waterworks systems and fire departments—the prevention and punishment of arson; all these mean insurance to the last degree.

STOCK FIRE INSURANCE

actually insures you the advantages of these activities.
